LOCALLY GROWN HEALING FOODS DINNER

Two Orange County leaders in sustainability are teaming up to host a natural, healing foods celebration consisting entirely of ingredients grown or harvested locally with the least environmental impact possible. The "Locally Grown Healing Foods Dinner" at Bluewater Grill in Tustin will feature a five-course menu of sustainable seafood locally sourced by Bluewater Grill and greens and vegetables grown naturally in Laguna Beach by Alegria Fresh using high-performance vertical hydroponic agriculture methods. Tolosa Winery of Paso Robles, Calif., will pair organic wines made locally at its solar-powered Santa Barbara County facility using sustainable farming practices including recycling, composting, non-pesticide management methods and low-volume, low-pressure drip irrigation. The cost of the meal including wine pairings and gratuity is $75, and advance ticket purchase is required. Space is limited. For tickets and event details, visit AlegriaFresh.com.
